My dear Sir

Now one of the Tracts was unmarked
I cannot understand: I mark them all myself; &
so I know whom to blame.

Thank you for the P.O. order for £5. I understand that it pays for all you have received.
I have put your name on my lists for future issues.

I take it for granted that you have the five

Parts of "England's Parnassus".

It is the most useful, as well as the best, book I have issued, and noting the 4000 or more quotations, with the exact references, cost me great labour; but then I had distributed it over forty or even more years.

I have had the pleasure of again inserting y^r name in my List.

You see "Notes & Queries" I know; and in future I shall (besides the Athm) make known my undertakings through it, if the Editor gives me leave, as I dare say he will.

Yours very sincerely & much obliged

J. Payne Collier

Editor Green Mr. Editor,
I have just received your copy of the
